Marshall and has five sons and six daughters. His eldest son, Raymond, fell at the front in France, and in this connection a great sensation was some time ago created in scientific circles when Sir Oliver announced that he had had communication with the spirit of his departed son. ## Suffered With Heart For Ten Years

Would Nearly Smother.

There is nothing that brings with it such fear of impending death as to wake up in the night with that awful sense of smothering. The uncertain and irregular heart action causes the greatest distress of both mind and body.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the only remedy that can give prompt relief and effect a complete cure in cases of such severity.

They strengthen and invigorate the heart, so that it beats strong and regular, and tone up the nervous system so that the cause of so much anxiety becomes a thing of the past.

Mrs. M. O. McCready, Wapella, Sask., writes: "I am not much of a believer in medicines, but I feel that it is only right for me to let you know what your wonderful remedy has done for me, and in a very short time, too. I had suffered terribly with my heart for nearly ten years, could scarcely do any work, and would nearly smother at times. I had many remedies, some only relieving me for a time. I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and felt so much better that I kept on using them and can truthfully say I feel like a new woman."

"I would advise anyone with heart trouble to use them."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c or three boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Little Stories of Big Men

SENATOR JAMES H. BRADY

Today is the birthday of Idaho's foremost statesman, and a gentleman who has everywhere won the high regard of all people with whom he has come in contact, and their number is considerable. That gentleman is United States Senator James H. Brady, republican representative in the upper house of the national legislature of the people of Idaho. Senator Brady's career offers an unusual proof that the highest positions of public trust in the land are available to the American youth with brains and enterprise. James Henry Brady was born in Indiana county, Pa., on June 12, 1852. When he was a boy his parents moved to Kansas, and there his youth was spent. He attended school and high school in that state and after his graduation from the latter went to the State Normal School at Leavenworth. In 1894 he went to Idaho, settling in Pocatello. His business ability soon brought him to the forefront and not long after establishing himself in his new home he became president of the Idaho Consolidated Power Company. From that time on his fortunes grew rapidly and he acquired interests in numerous other large and profitable industrial enterprises. Mr. Brady first entered politics in 1904, when he was chosen chairman of the republican state committee of Idaho. In 1905 he was elected governor of the state on a republican ticket and in 1912 the Idaho legislature chose him to succeed the late Weldon B. Heyburn as United States senator. Today, on his 55th birthday, Senator Brady has the distinction of serving his country at a time that will live forever in the story not alone of the United States but of the world.

Today's Anniversaries

The first important event on record for June 12 was the assassination of Marcus Claudius Papius Maximus, emperor of Rome, in the year 455. He reigned only fifteen months. He was of humble birth, but rose through his ability to the highest position in the state and was made emperor on the death of Gordian.

On June 12, 1418, a great massacre took place in Paris at night, by direction of John, Duke of Burgundy, called the Fearless. In the course of this massacre 3,500 persons are said to have perished.

1630—John Winthrop, first governor of Massachusetts, arrived at Salem with a charter for the colony.

PREMIER TELLS COMMONS THAT NEED IS URGENT

has to meet. I say no further today. I have only one request to make. My right honorable friend refers to matters which he is to lay before the house. He states that, before the second reading of the bill when discussion really commences, he will place on the table, the statistics of which he has spoken but which he did not give, of the number of available men, between the ages of 20 and 45. I hope he will give that statement to the house in ample time before we take up the second reading of the bill."

Sir Robert Borden—"I shall endeavor to do it at the earliest possible moment."

Registration

E. M. MacDonald asked the prime minister to say whether it will be the policy of the government to provide for registration of the people by a statute similar to that passed in the United States.

Sir Robert replied:

"The provision to which I have alluded is the only provision the government has in contemplation at present."

Mr. MacDonald then asked if there will be a statutory definition of the words "national interest" used in section 11 of the bill or whether the interpretation of the meaning will be left to the different local boards.

Sir Robert Borden replied that there is provision that regulations may be made for the purpose of securing uniformity in the application of the act.

The bill was then given a first reading and the house went into committee of supply on the railway estimates.

Explanation of Act Is Given Out By Government

Before the house met Monday afternoon an official explanation of the selective conscription act was given out by the government stating that the measure would be called the Military Service Act of 1917, the name given a similar measure in Great Britain and New Zealand.

The bill provides for securing reinforcements which unless parliament further authorities are not to exceed 100,000 men. It sets out 10 distinct classes from which drafts may be selected. These classes will be called out in the order named. They are as follows:

The Different Classes

Class 1.—Those who have attained the age of 20 years and were born not earlier than the year 1894 and are unmarried or are widowers but have no children.

Class 2.—Those who were born in the years 1889 to 1893, both inclusive, and are unmarried or are widowers without children.

Class 3.—Those who were born in the years 1883 to 1888, both inclusive, and are unmarried or are widowers but have no children.

Class 4.—Those who have attained the age of 20 years and were born not earlier than the year 1894 and are married or widowers who have a child or children.

Class 5.—Those who were born in the years 1889 to 1893, both inclusive, and are married or are widowers who have a child or children.

Class 6.—Those who were born in the years 1883 to 1888, both inclusive, and are married or are widowers who have a child or children.

Class 7.—Those who were born in the years 1874 to 1882, both inclusive, and are unmarried or are widowers who have no child.

Class 8.—Those who were born in the years 1874 to 1882, both inclusive, and are married or are widowers who have a child or children.

Class 9.—Those who were born in the years 1872 to 1875, both inclusive, and are unmarried or are widowers who have no child.

Class 10.—Those who were born in the years 1872 to 1875, both inclusive, and are married or widowers who have a child or children.

(2) For the purposes of this section any man married after the 11th day of June, 1917, shall be deemed to be unmarried.

(3) Any class except class 1 shall include men who are transferred there from another class as hereinafter provided and men who have come within Class 1 since the previous class was called out.

(4) The order in which the classes are described in this section shall be the order in which they may be called out on active service, provided the governor in council may divide any class into sub-classes, in which case the subclasses shall be called out in order of age beginning with the youngest.

(5) 1.—The governor in council may from time to time by proclamation call out for active service as aforesaid for the defense of Canada, either in Canada or beyond Canada, any class or sub-class of men described in section four and all men within the class or sub-class so called out shall, from the date of such proclamation be deemed to be soldiers.

System of Exemption

There are to be three tribunals. First of all, local tribunals, composed of two persons, are to sit in each locality wherever designated by the minister of justice. One of these two men are to be chosen by the senior county court judge of the district where the tribunal first sits. The other is to be chosen by a board of selection and this board of selection, is to be named, not by the government, but by parliament. The premier's intention is that it shall be composed of men acceptable to both and all elements of political faith. These local tribunals shall hear applications for exemption and the principles upon which they shall act are set out in the bill. Billed down, they require that the tribunals shall decide whether or not the man who asks for exemption is best serving the national interest with the work he is at or in military service.

An Appeal Tribunal

The next tribunal is called an appeal tribunal and is composed of one judge of any court to be designated by the chief justice of the province where the appeal is entered. All applicants for exemption and any one authorized by the militia department has free right of appeal to this appeal tribunal.

Central Appeal Judge.

Above the appeals tribunals throughout all the provinces there is a central appeal judge. This central appeal judge is to be chosen from the present supreme court of Canada. He is to determine by regulation the conditions upon which appeal may be made to him. Provision is made for providing assistance to the judges for the central appeal judge on his recommendation. The exemption provisions aim at being fair and impartial and what is not less important, to inform application of the exemption clauses throughout the whole of the Dominion.

Will Get Expenses.

Persons chosen to be members of a local tribunal are evidently to be paid expenses but are not to receive emolument. This should make for the appointment of men of high character and standing, anxious to do public service at this time. They are protected from all liability so long as they act in good faith. They are furthermore compelled to perform their duties if appointed, unless released from their obligation by the authority which appoints them.

A registrar, to be appointed for each province, whose duty it will be to receive appeals and allocate them by districts for the convenience of the chief justices in the selection and allocation of the appeal tribunals.

Exemptions Conditional.

Certificates of exemption that may be granted are evidently intended to be in the main, conditional certificates. Men may be exempted for a limited time or pending the happening of some event. They may also in proper cases be placed in the class next in order and required to report for duty when such class is called. Application for exemption may be made by one person on behalf of another and may be made to any local tribunal in the province where the applicant resides. A local tribunal, once chosen, however, by an applicant, cannot be afterward changed.

Exemptions as in Britain

Those exempted wholly from the operation of the bill are practically the same as was the case in Great Britain. They consist of men forming part of His Majesty's regular or reserve forces and of men in the Royal Navy, Royal Marines, or the naval service and of men who have already served on the allies' side in the present war and received an honorable discharge.

There are also exempted, clergy and ministers of religion and certain members of the Mennonites and Doukhobors promised exemption by the Dominion in 1873 and 1888.

When the class to which any man belongs is called out, each member of that class becomes a member of the militia, subject, of course, to his right to apply for exemption. There are only 16 sections in the bill.

Sidelights on the War

Exodus of Negroes from South

The war has drained Europe of 10 men; it has drawn from the field of our own country the farm worker, and led them to the factories, where higher wages are being paid. It is about to cast thousands of our men into the maelstrom of conflict, and lastly, it is drawing the negro from the south. It is a question of wage and the south, particularly Georgia, is becoming alarmed as the emigration grows more seriously daily. For many months now the colored population of Georgia, men and women, have been flowing away in a steady increasing stream from the fields and factories that need their hands. It is said that more than 50,000 have already left, and there is no abatement in the exodus. The cities of Georgia have already taken steps to combat the situation by forbidding the establishment of northern employment agencies. It is the farm wages in the north that have attracted the colored folks. Four or five dollars a day being paid in some parts of the north to farm workers, is a fortune to the negro. He sells out "down south" and starts for the new Utopia. Sometimes when he gets north he will land a job usually at smaller wages than he expected. It is said that another reason for the exodus is conscription. The negro doesn't want to go to the trenches. In the south, particularly in his own town, everybody knows all about him, his age, dependents and so forth. He can't get out of it if he stays. So he gets the where withal to go north, where he is unknown. Measures are being sought in the south to stop this emigration. Mass meetings have been held, attended by both white and black folks where the negroes were urged to stay at home and help their own section in the hour of need. It hasn't helped much. Now the people of Georgia have decided to bring the matter to the attention of the state legislature in the hope that this body will pass some kind of law which will enable the people to keep the negroes where they are and can do most good.

LONDON, June 11.—In the house of commons Mr. Lloyd George delivered an eulogy of Major Wm. Redmond, whose death from a wound received at the front was announced last week. He said Major Redmond felt the war was Ireland's greatest opportunity for winning liberty for herself by fighting side by side with the Briton in the world's struggle for freedom. Mr. Asquith associated himself with the premier's tribute and Joseph Devlin, Nationalist, thanked them for the references they had made.

Making History

FOR the first time we believe in Edmonton's history, a local newspaper, the Bulletin, has reached a circulation exceeding 20,000 Copies.

This was the average combined circulation of the Daily and Semi-Weekly Bulletin for the week ending Saturday, June 9th, and while this was strictly abnormal due to special demand for papers on account of the election, The Bulletin has been giving more than 19,000 circulation steadily for several weeks.

This circulation represents a buying power greater by far than is offered by any other single newspaper in this territory and is one which Edmonton merchants and business men generally should take full advantage of.

Edmonton businesses can only hope to prosper as they attract trade from outside the city. We cannot live by trading only with each other within the city, and it is in attracting business from this large and prosperous outside constituency that the 20,000 circulation of The Bulletin can be used with good effect.

We should be glad to tell you how at a very low cost you can use this large combined circulation to your great benefit.

The committee is of opinion that no street railway extension or electric illumination in the Bonanza District should be contemplated this year.

No Sunday Band Concerts.

No bands will be engaged for Sunday concerts this year. The committee look upon them as a doubtful investment, and the street railway superintendent says that he cannot be certain of any increased revenue from the concerts.

The cost of repairing the street railway tracks on Jasper between McDougall and Howard avenues was left over until after the exhibition week. The estimated cost of the work is $200.

Mr. McArthur said to The Bulletin that the line from Murray would probably be opened by the first of October. There was a lot to be done to lay a new railway for operation besides laying the steel in the way of ballasting, etc. Every effort was being made, however, to run the trains through by the early fall.

It was also expected that the foundations for the New Peace River bridge would be in by fall, when work on the steel superstructure would be finished with a haste.

condition. The president of the road said that there was other work to be done, such as completing the ballasting, which would keep the roads busy his summer.

Methodist Church's National Training School

Excitement, June 11.—Dr. Salem O. Hand, former pastor of mental and moral philosophy of Wesley College, Winnipeg, will be transferred to the Methodist church's national training school at Toronto. This action is expected to end the controversy regarding Dr. Hand's removal from Wesley College, which has been the outstanding feature of the fourteenth annual session of the Saskatchewan Methodist conference here. It is now stated that the intention is to parallel the work as much as possible at Toronto in order to secure greater economy in training Methodist ministers.

Telephone Extensions.
 Arising out of the application of H. Whittam for telephone service at his residence at Forest Heights, the committee decided to lay down a policy to be followed in all cases where extensions of the utilities were required at points where it would mean extra expenditure to carry out the individual service. In all such cases the applicant for the service will be asked to pay any additional cost over the average cost of installation, and each such case will be treated on its individual merits. In the case of Mr. Whitlam, the superintendent of the telephone department stated that owing to the isolation of the premises the installation would mean an additional cost of $20 over the usual ex-

The matter of installing yard water hydrants was discussed, when the committee had the advice of the city engineer and the acting superintendent of the waterworks department. Dr. Whitelaw said many people were complaining that they could not get a proper water supply also that the water kept in barre's made their children ill. On the other hand, if the yard hydrants were installed in any number it might mean that proper sewer and water connections might be held up indefinitely.

PERSONALS, MEETINGS, CLUB ACTIVITIES, WEDDINGS AND SOCIAL EVENTS.

Miss Holmes, secretary to the exhibition board, who has just recovered from an operation for appendicitis, after an illness of a month's duration, resumed her duties at the exhibition offices on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Hardisty of Calgary is visiting her mother, Mrs. H. V. Hardisty.

Mrs. J. Armour of Vancouver is the guest of Mrs. Robert Campbell, 56th avenue.

Miss Ethel Henry is entertaining on Thursday afternoon for Miss McGowan of Winnipeg and her hostess, Mrs. Angus Douglas.

Mrs. G. Thompson, wife of the editor of the Calgary News-Telegram, is visiting her former Calgary neighbor, Mrs. F. W. Hardy for the South Side.

A merry party of city folks motored down to Gull Lake on Saturday for the week end. Finding the hotel at Gull Lake not opened for the season they put up at the hotel at Lacombe, but spent the best part of the time at the lake. The party included Mr. and Mrs. Helander, Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Mr. Toyand, Miss Antoinette Royal, Miss Vera Perraton, Mr. Lew Carroll, Mrs. Gross, Mr. Cadzow and Mrs. Savard.

Mrs. D. S. MacKenzie was the hostess of a miscellaneous shower for Miss Muriel Wilson on Saturday afternoon. About twenty-five of Miss Wilson's girl friends were invited and a merry time was spent. The home was most artistically arranged with blue lilacs and pink roses. Mrs. Harry Wilson, mother of the bride-to-be, and Mrs. Skinner presided at the tea table while Miss Dyde, Miss Agnes Wilson and Miss Edith Martin were most attentive assistants. It was one of those cozy social affairs which are always so delightful and there was much excitement and curiosity shown over the opening of the many lovely bundles. I was with reluctance that the guests bid their charming hostess adieu.

The Daily Poem

THE SWEETEST WORD
There are soft words murmured by dear sweet lips.
Far richer than any other;
But the sweetest word that the earth hath heard
Is the blessed name of "Mother."
O magical word; may it never die
From the lips that love to speak it;
Nor melt away from the trusting hearts
That even would break to keep it.
Was there ever a name that lived like this?
Will there ever be such another?
The angels have reared in heaven a shrine
To the holy name of "Mother."

Musical Festival committee, the following gentlemen were appointed to represent Edmonton on the Provincial executive board of the Alberta Musical competition Festival to be held in Calgary next year: Mr. Herbert Wild, A.C.G.O., Mr. Vernon Burford, A.A.G.O., Mr. Charles E. K. Cox, These gentlemen along with Mr. Cyril Bates, secretary of the Edmonton branch, are drafting a constitution to govern all matters in connection with the Alberta Festival. The Calgary committee, is now well organized and has appointed Dr. Hodgson, Mr. Wilfrid Owen and Mr. Lawrence Lambert as its representatives. Lethbridge has also been heard from.

Miss May and Miss Gladys Mayor, 15th avenue, were hostesses of a handkerchief shower for Miss Muriel Wilson on Saturday evening. About fifteen girls were present. The guests were cordially greeted and were asked to take part in a paragon shower. This proved to be a very novel entertainment for all. Clothes pins were distributed and a card bearing the name of some member of the bridal party such as the bride, groom, mother and bridesmaids. These paper, paste and pins were also given and each guest was to dress the clothes pin as the card designated. There was a heap of fun and some very clever costumes were designed. When all was finished a table suitably decorated and arranged was ready for the bridal party thus created. A Japanese parol with the handkerchiefs inside was set up with ribbon and presented to the guests of honor. Upon opening all the little bundles fell out and made a real shower indeed. Refreshments were served and a very happy party was brought all too quickly to a close.

Miss MacCall of Saskatoon is the guest of Mrs. Hyndman, Sr., during a short stay in the city.

At the meeting of the Catholic Women's League held on Monday afternoon at Rosary hall the principal business was the making of arrangements for the opening of the girls' summer camp at Lac Ste. Anne next month. It was decided to have a tea and shower on Tuesday of next week for the purpose of helping with the furnishing of the camp, as a large amount of linen, beds, etc., will be required. All members of the league and friends are asked to make the shower a success. The members express great sympathy with Mrs. J. F. Dawson, who has been a member for many years, in the death of her husband, Major Dawson, at the front. A letter will be sent to her. A letter expressing sympathy was also passed to send to Mrs. Hawkins, treasurer of the league, on the death of her sister.

Miss Green, of the South Side, gave a very interesting talk on the hospital among the home mission fields of the Presbyterian church in Canada at the meeting of the W. M. S. at Robertson church on Monday afternoon. Mrs. J. S. Macdonald sang delightfully during the meeting. Mrs. D. N. McLeod, the president, was in the chair. After the meeting the ladies gave a silver tea to raise money for the working fund of the society. Both the tea and the meeting were well attended and the tea brought $10.25 into the treasury. The table, which was arranged in the ladies' parlour, was tastefully decorated with a tall green oriental vase filled with rose pink carnations. Mrs. King and Mrs. Chas. Sanders presided at the tea table.

BIBLE SOCIETY MEETING.
A Bible woman for Edmonton, whose services will call for the devotion of her whole time to missionary effort amongst the cosmopolitan people in the city, was a live issue at the Y.M.C.A. on the 8th inst. The question is referred to the Provincial Board of Bible Society and should the proposal be endorsed by that body it was thought the Bible woman employed, would be asked to spend six months in Edmonton, and six months in Calgary, and thus the board would be in a position to judge the relative value of such an undertaking. The Provincial Secretary, Rev. H. D. Mart, in speaking to the question touched upon the splendid work done in other parts of the Dominion by Bible women, and the feeling of the meeting was that for Edmonton such an effort was a most timely development. The different items of business proved to be of such absorbing interest that the meeting was prolonged to a late hour. W. A. Geddes of Calgary, president of the provincial board addressed the gathering at some length, his remarks being chiefly concerned with the establishment of a home in the province for the Bible Society. A very encouraging and representative number had assembled, and the discussion which gathered round a Bible house was both keen, and well balanced.

3. Should a hostess wait for a guest who is late, or should a dinner be given at the time originally planned?
5. When ending a wedding invitation to a man whose engagement has been announced, should an invitation be extended to his fiancée?
6. What is the most frequent cause of dark lines extending around the throat?

ANSWERS TO YESTERDAY'S INQUIRIES.

1. When hanging a picture, suspend it first with the face to the wall, then twist it around; the wire, thus crossed, will prevent it from hanging crooked.
2. Rub grease stains on a kitchen table with a cut lemon.
3. After an egg has been hard-boiled let cold water run over it for a minute; this will cause the egg to contract slightly and separate itself from the shell; thus the shell can be more easily removed.
4. A bleach of tan and freckles is composed of one dram citrine ointment, one dram oil of almonds, six drops spermaceti ointment, three drops attar of roses. Beat together in a deep crock, using a wooden or bone spoon.
5. Lemon juice applied with an orange-wood stick makes an effective nail bleach.
6. To keep the hair light and fluffy, add the juice of a lemon to the last rinse water when shampooing.

Beef Pudding
A cheap dish is beef pudding. Line a pudding bowl with pie crust made with a very little shortening in it, cut meat in dice and fill the bowl with it, add pepper and salt. Pour in water until you can see it all through the meat; dampen the edge of the crust. Roll out a piece of crust to fit the top of the pudding, press the edges together good. Be sure there is no place the gravy can leak out. Tie in a cloth and plunge into boiling water and boil for four hours. Be sure you keep the pudding boiling. When ready to serve, cut round hole in top crust, pour in hot salted water until you have left half an inch. Shall I say you will have plenty of gravy. Beef kidney pudding is also made the same way and is also very good.

Perplexities of a Schoolgirl
To the Editor of Woman's Page:
Dear Madam—I am a girl of 15. My hair is so short and thin I don't know how to comb it. Do you think it doesn't grow because I wet it when combing? What will make it grow? With what shall I wash my hair to keep it the same shade? It is blond and I have left my school. Shall I ask one of the teachers her address so I may write to her?

It is a great mistake to let your hair when you comb. Combing wetting in this way will rot it, so that it will naturally become thin. To shampoo it, make a shampoo liquid of castile soap shaved fine and dissolved in warm water, then add to a beater egg. Rub well into the scalp, and rinse very thoroughly with the sprinkler hose. Then fill a basin with clear water and add the juice of one-half a lemon to it and pour the head in this. This will keep it light and fluffy. I should strongly advise you against the hair brush, but if you must use one, brush the hair carefully and thoroughly with at least fifty ones, every stroke.

Is He in Love?
To the Editor of Woman's Page:
Dear Madam—Will you please tell me if a young man asks me to go out with him five or six times in three months is it a sign that he is in love with me?
R. M.
Do not make the mistake, my dear R. M., so many girls of your age fall for the first fellow who asks them out who is polite to you and seems to find pleasure in being in your company is in love with you. If such were the case he would not ask you out five or six times in three months. He probably likes you for a friend and has asked you to accompany him to the theatre or movies to show you a list of attention, and you will be foolish to make more of it than that. You miss some very good and helpful friendships in life by being always on the lookout for a lover instead of a friend. Don't worry about the former; he will come in time, and you will be quite sure to know it when he does.

Trimming Fur Frocks
To the Editor of Woman's Page:
Dear Madam—Can you tell me how to trim a fur frock? I have a dress of broadened organdie? I am in my late thirties, short and stout. Can you suggest a trimming for it? I thought of net, as I did not want lace. The skirt is full and it makes me look much

CUPID'S COURT

LEMMON—EDGAR

A very pretty wedding was quietly solemnized on Saturday, June 9, 1917, at the home of the bride's parents, 2939 105th street, Edmonton, when Catherine McGregor, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Edgar, (late of Stirling, Scotland) was united in marriage to Josiah Lemmon, only son of William J. Lemmon, South Cooking Lake, Alberta.

The drawing room was lovely with sweetly perfumed creamy white and red Richmond roses and ferns making a fitting background for the sweet young bride. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. McGowan, M.A., in the presence of the family circle and relatives. The wedding march was played by Miss Margaret Edgar, sister of the bride. A dainty luncheon was later served and toasts were proposed to the bride and groom to which the groom responded in his witty manner.

The young couple have a wide circle of friends in this city, the groom having resided in Edmonton district for the past ten years. They were the recipients of many handsome and useful gifts and the best of good wishes go out to them in their wedded life.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemmon left on the midnight train amid showers of confetti on a trip through the Rockies, and on their return the bride will reside at the home of her mother, the groom leaving for overseas service.

YOUTH'S MEMORIES AWAKE CIRCUS DAY

The circus, like other things, has its follies and frailties, but somehow it holds a steady place in the human heart. Its novelty never grows stale. The youthful imagination is particularly so, and the recollection of circus day, youth in one's youth, is something one really cherishes. Those gay and fearless harlequin riders—were there ever mortals quite so favored as they, and the old clown—was there anything so funny or so wise as he, and the strong man—was there anything so powerful and so invincible as he? Once every year nearly every child explains the circus, its popularity will never dim. There is something fascinating about the "white tops" but no one better explain it better than that found elsewhere. There is an irresistibility about the circus that he cannot explain. It allures and charms. It tempts one to ask the question "Would life be worth living without the circus?" With its red wagons, trumpets, bands and footling callopes? The great J. S. Patterson and Gollmar Bros. circus will charm you more than ever with its trained wild beasts from every corner, its acrobats, clowns and performers from every clime, be sure to mark your calendars for the big, double-canopied Temple of Wonders which will positively exhibit in Edmonton Friday and Saturday, June 22 and 23.

Elizabeth Issued First Charter
It was on June 12, 1578, that Queen Elizabeth, England's famous virgin queen, completed a step of great importance in regard to the relations of the motherland with the colonies. Humphrey Gilbert, an adventurer and explorer, had laid before his sovereign a plan for the settlement of lands on the continent, and the queen received his report with much surprise. Here was an undertaking which had never before been presented in England, and Queen Elizabeth, while doubtful of its outcome, was eager to lend her aid. Consequently she issued to Gilbert letters patent for the discovery and settlement of "barbarous lands in America, undiscovered by Christian prince or people." Thus Elizabeth issued the great charter granted by the crown of England to a colony.

CLEVER TURNS ON AT THE NEW SHOW AT PANTAGES THIS WEEK

(By Bulletin Dramatic Critic.)

The Pantages show is in the habit of opening up with one of the best acts in the whole bill and this week is no exception. The Rondas, trick cyclists, have been seen here before, but they have improved tremendously in the interval and can now be rated among the very best of their class. They give a wonderful exhibition of graceful, daring and novel riding, on both one and two wheels. If there is any stunt which they cannot pull off it is because it has not happened to them yet. One of the ladies performs the feat of getting out of the saddle, climbing through the frame of the bicycle and regaining her seat on the other side while the machine is at rest. If you think this is easy, just try it, that's all. It would be well to have some sticking plaster handy for your nose by the way.

Harry Holmes and Florrie Lever give an amusing musical skit, "The Mockers." The act opens showing the principals in a theatre box as a violently contentious married pair. A quick turn on a dark stage gets them into action and a piano and dancing ensues. The act ends, as it can, with "themselves" all friends, going home.

"A Breath of Old Virginia," a play with its action laid in Civil War times, is cleverly done by Pearl Ford, Edwin Evans, Frederick Smith and Charles Bartling. Costumes and action are those of half a century ago. "A, B and C" in the eternal triangle are a pretty southern girl, a young Confederate officer who sacrificed his arm for "honor's sake," and a rich business man from the north. One guess allowed to pick the winner of the girl.

Morris and Allen rattle off some lively patter stuff in their act "During the Intermission."

The spectacular finale is called "The Movie Girl," with Jessie Makers as a very pretty war who evidently makes up with a photograph of Mary Pickford in front of her. The motion picture company, composed of equal parts blondes and brunettes, are also addicted to the Pickford style of coiffure. There is a handsome-looking hero and a character "direct" with a camera. The combination is productive of plenty of fun and continuous action, novel lines. The costumes and scenery are a big advance on the usual layout of a road show and the music is of the kind that you hum and whistle all the way home.

The Pantagescope gives its usual interesting resume of current events and a comedy film which puts the audience in good humor for the regular program to follow.

WHAT A FOX HUNT IS LIKE

Those people who have never had the pleasure of participating in a fox hunt as it is staged by the society folk, will have a splendid opportunity of seeing just what such a hunt is like when they see "The Whip." In this production one of the big scenes shows a fox hunt in full swing. The manner in which the horses take the fences and streams, the way in which the dogs dash after their quarry and the beauty of the hunting costumes worn by the hunters, add much to the intense interest of the picture.

This hunt, by the way, is an actual one. Maurice Tourneur, who directed "The Whip," decided that the only way to secure the desired realism in this part of the production was by taking the real thing. Instead of staging a special hunt for the occasion, he permitted himself to be taken to the annual event of one of the most famous hunt clubs in the country and the result is a vivid and vital part of this tremendously interesting feature. "The Whip" comes to the Empire theatre next week.

DR. SUGDEN RETURNS WITH FILM PICTURES

Alaska's best booster, and one of the best known and best loved men in the Yukon, returned to the Empire theatre last night with his famous lecture with film entitled "The Lure of Alaska," for a second engagement. A second view of these pictures confirms the first impression of them, that whether as a lecture feature or straight theatrical entertainment they are considerably above par, and as for the doctor's lecture, it is worthy of repetition that he is both entertaining and instructive. He knows his subject and as a lecturer knows how to sell his goods. Dr. Sugden will be at the Empire the first four days this week with a Wednesday matinee.

CANADIANS READY FOR THE SACRIFICE

London, June 11.—A well accredited story is being told in connection with the big mine expedition during the attack at the battle of Messines last week. Several weeks ago, when the Canadians were expecting to be moved so as to participate in this attack, the question was raised as to whether the mines could be blown by a time fuse, and the suggestion made that it would be safer to do it by hand. Immediately four Canadians volunteered for the job, though it meant there would be little chance of escaping for them. The story was told by an officer, but evidently these men were not called on for the sacrifice.

Mr. Woodman was unfortunate enough to have two horses and some oats stolen from his farm.

BERRYMOOR.
Bulletin Correspondence.
The ferry across the Saskatchewan river has been running for a month.

Wynand Denny, the ferryman, one day stole a huge bear from the river.

Having no weapon at hand but stones, he made use of them, but to no purpose, as the bear was too big.

The river is still high.

The seeding is over in this district and the grain is growing well.

Spring was late in making its appearance but like the tortoise, the farmers may win the race yet.

Two fire rangers made their appearance this week and were decorating some of the buildings with notices and warnings.

Charles Cropley was up here and drove a herd of cattle down to Genesee. They had been ranging around here for some time.

Mossie with the mail carrier who carries the mail from Mossie to Belvedere. But the Paddle river had flooded and prevented its banks and the mail carrier could not cross, but undaunted, these travellers, two young ladies, set off to walk to Mossie, a distance of 10 miles. A lift in a friendly motor car for a few miles helped a little and the two travellers tried but have arrived at Mossie late this morning.

Owing to the high water in the Pembina, the stage from Mossie to Chertville could not cross the river. This and the travellers' experience again shows the great necessity of the government placing a good bridge over the Pembina at Meadow View.

Due to the high water in the Paddle river the mail man could not get over to carry the mail. Consequently the mail did not arrive at Mossie on May 23rd, nor on May 24th. This caused a great amount of dissatisfaction at Mossie. The mail carrier lives one mile over the river from the post office, but there are plenty of boats and the mail can be carried near to the post office. The non-arrival of the mail caused inconvenience to persons in the neighbourhood of Mossie and letters of an important nature. Besides the inconvenience of not getting the mail many persons in the neighbourhood of Mossie had to wait for the mail for a week and a half.

Good reports continue to be received from Pte. John and Pte. Stanley Richmond, who reports that he is better of his wounds and enjoying a ten-day leave amongst his family in London and Yorkshire.

The school at Mossie is making satisfactory progress. All twenty pupils are now in the school. The new teacher, Mr. J. H. Brown, who reports that he is better of his wounds and enjoying a ten-day leave amongst his family in London and Yorkshire.

DETECTIVES RAID SOCIAL DEMOCRAT MEETING IN TORONTO

Eighty Alien Enemies Arrested—Branch of Ukrainian Organization at Winnipeg

TORONTO, June 10.—Detectives raided Lodge 52 of the Social Democratic Party of Canada, which was holding a meeting in Occident hall. Eighty or more alien enemies who had accepted an undertaking from the registrar under which they were given the freedom, with certain restrictions, were taken into custody. All men in the room who had become naturalized citizens were not questioned after they had shown their papers.

"It is simply a case of alien enemies discussing the policies of the government," said the detective inspector who had charge of the raid. The meeting was stopped while an interpreter waited for a few minutes to one of the speakers. When informed that he was under arrest he shouted something to his audience in Ukrainian. When he was interrupted he stated that the headquarters of the party was in Winnipeg and that it now has 11,000 members.

Barber Cured of Eczema

Generously Tells Others How Cure Was Effected.

Toronto, Ont., May 14th.—No one is better qualified to judge of treatment for skin troubles than the barber. He finds his customers bothered with barber's itch, pimples and eczema and has his own difficulties in treating these conditions after shaving.

Mr. Lewis learned from a customer about Dr. Chase's Ointment, and when he contracted eczema, applied this treatment with most satisfactory results. He is naturally enthusiastic now in recommending this ointment to any one suffering from similar skin troubles.

Mr. George Lewis, barber, 2034, Wellesley street, Toronto, writes: "I was for some time troubled with an eczemic eruption on the scalp and obtained temporary relief by the use of a tonic. About six months later it returned and the doctor pronounced the trouble to be eczema. I heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment through a customer who was cured by the treatment after trying many remedies in vain, so I began the use of this Ointment and in a short time the eczema entirely disappeared from my face and scalp. You can imagine my relief, as I am a barber by trade and having a face covered with pimples or blotches was not conducive to good business. I shall take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Chase's Ointment to any customers with facial or other troubles of this nature."

THE OPPOSITION LEADERSHIP

Mr. Michener was saved from a rather all, by delayed response from some out-lying non-fish speaking settlements.

It is that, he will hardly be entirely satisfied with the disfranchisement of naturalized citizens of the province.

Presumably his election settles question of who will occupy seat of the leader of the Opposition in the House. As Mr.

Michener is not in the House the question of who will really lead the Opposition remains to be decided by experiment.

NOT TO BE COUNTED ON

It can only be hoped that President Wilson's ringing appeal to Russian people will be heard and the war-cries of the conquering factions. Hoped, but not expected with any confidence.

Walking reason to an earthquake at a very promising occupation at best. One must shut his eyes to a good deal to suppose that upheaval has left the Russian people any collective capacity for acting on good advice, or for uniting action of any sort.

While hoping always for the best from Russia, prudence requires that we apprehend the possibility that the world's dom will have to be saved out help from that quarter.

NOT ELIGIBLE

Canada is to have a coalition Government the coalition could be for the purpose of se-ing more efficient management of the war effort, not for the purpose of perpetuating the political inactivity of any man or any party.

Mr. Robert Borden has obviously upon his own admission, the present Government into a state of impotence in which it neither get men to enlist voluntarily nor enforce compulsory service. That being the case, the necessary step toward the establishment of a Government can rescue the country from humiliation is the resignation of the Premier who got

HELPERS

During the crisis at Ottawa the Edmonton Journal, the Toronto News, and some other vociferous loyalist papers have been helping to suppress party feeling and promote unity of action by slandering the patriotism of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, to whom Sir Robert Borden was appealing to lend a hand and try to pull his Government out of the hole.

RIGHT END, BUT WRONG MEANS.

No doubt it is necessary to restrict the amount of fish taken from the western lakes, if the supply is to be saved from exhaustion. But the restricting should be done at a time and in a way that would not impose hardship upon people of small means who have taken out licenses and gone to considerable trouble and expense in expectation of being allowed to gain a livelihood by fishing during the summer. There is one right way, and a good many wrong ones, of doing anything, and the Dominion Fisheries department seems to be clinging with curious persistency to one of the wrong ways of restricting the fishing industry. The fish supply should be protected; but the fisherman should not be encouraged to incur expense for license, boats and nets and then denied the privilege of fishing.

THE PLACE TO BEGIN

So long as the Borden Government could go ahead, go backwards, or go sideways, every suggestion to follow the British precedent and form a coalition Government in Canada was met by rejection and ridicule from Sir Robert and every other spokesman for the present Ministry down to the Edmonton Journal.

Only when the Government got stuck up to the ears in difficulties of its own making, when it could neither go forward to conscription, nor backwards to voluntary enlistment, nor sideways to inaction, did Sir Robert begin to call upon the Liberals to come in and pull him out of his predicament.

Coalition to manage the war Sir Robert would have nothing to do with. Coalition to extricate his Government from the consequences of its own mismanagement of the war is what he has been appealing for. The only proper beginning for a coalition under those circumstances is the resignation of the Premier whose incompetence has brought both the country's war effort and the Government to a standstill.

INACTION VERSUS LANGUAGE

Hon. Thomas Crothers expresses the view that a food controller would not be able to do much to bring about a reduction in the cost of living.

That may be the case, or it may not be. The fact that Mr. Crothers says it is the case will hardly be accepted as conclusive. Mr. Crothers has not shown himself such a lively member of the Government that his unsupported assertions on matters connected with current affairs will be accepted as necessarily founded upon exhaustive and impartial inquiry, especially not when the circumstantial evidence is the other way.

If there is no price-boosting of consequence going on, then the appointment of a food controller would not be objected to from any quarter. But it is at least a reasonable suspicion that, as all the other Allied countries have found it necessary to regulate prices of food, there must be strong opposition from some influential quarter against the adoption of similar means in Canada, else such means would have been also employed here. The more so that Canada is the country where food prices should have been least affected by the war, and where they have as a matter of fact been affected most. The inaction of Mr. Crothers speaks louder than his words.

First Hand Information.

"Bob," said Lily's small sister, who was entertaining him while he awaited the appearance of Lily. "do you love Lily?" "Er—" stammered Bob. "—but why do you ask?" "She said she'd give a dollar to know," replied the little one, snuggling up. "—and I want the money!"

LEGAL INQUIRIES

Legal questions will be answered in the columns of The Bulletin, after being submitted to The Bulletin's own legal representatives. Write on one side of the paper only. Be brief. Send stamped envelope for reply.

Line Fence.

To the Bulletin Legal Department: Regarding a line fence between two farms, which half should be erected and maintain?

The only regulation as to a line fence is that whenever two owners of adjoining parcels of land desire to erect a line or boundary fence between such adjoining parcels for the common advantage of both they shall bear the expense of the erection in equal shares and thereafter the expense of maintaining and repairing such fence shall be borne by the adjoining owners in equal shares.

ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible, it will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Bulletin to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore those that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner. To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the questioner. This information is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

Coalition Government.

To the Bulletin: Would you kindly answer through your columns the meaning of a "coalition government?" M. J. Edmonton.

A coalition government is one made up of different elements which in the ordinary times are opposed. A coalition government, such as has been asked of in Canada would be made up of Conservatives and Liberals.

Most Important Battle.

To the Bulletin: Would you kindly inform me through your Answer column: 1 Which was the most important battle of this war? 2 Which of these two was the most important battle? "Mons" or "Marne"? State number of British and German soldiers in each. E. B. Rimley.

It is probable that the battle of the Marne was the most important up to the present time in its immediate consequences.

British War Council.

With The Humorists

Made a Shot At It.

The teacher believed in keeping the youngsters in touch with the history of the times, and was beginning a lesson upon the Russian royal family.

"Now, who can tell me what the Russian monarch was called?"

"The Czar," bellowed the class.

"Right! And what was his wife called?"

There was a pause. Then two or three ventured "The Czarina."

"Good!" said the teacher. "Now I wonder if you know what the Czar's children were called?"

After a longer pause, then one little voice piped: "Czarines!"

Hard on Father.

Little Denis, out for a walk with mother, noticed a poor, ragged little urchin.

"Yes, dear," said mother. "That poor little boy has no father to give him toys and things, like you have. Wouldn't you like to do something for him? Wouldn't you like to give him your rabbit?"

Denis thought a moment, and then suggested: "I'd rather give him father!"

Unintentional.

Vicar (at village Red Cross concert)—Miss Jones will sing again—"I Cannot Tell You Why!"

A Kind Photographer.

"Does Jones, the photographer, do everyone justice?" "He does more than that; he tempers justice with mercy."

Advice for Hens.

The Lady of the House—If you want eggs to keep you must lay them in a cool place. The Cattle Attendant—I'll mention it to 'em at wanst, mum.

A Near Romance.

"Auntie, did you ever have a love affair?" "No child." "Never had a romance?" "No. The nearest I ever came to having a romance was once when I went through a match factory."

The Hardest Thing.

"What do you think is the most difficult thing for a beginner to learn about golf?" "To keep from talking about it all the time."

"ENGLISH-CANADIAN."

Exiles, Vagrants, winning our bread in a land of pine and snow; We had said good-bye to England years and years ago; We had severed the ties that bound us—had made another aim.

And taken the broken ends up once more; forgotten the Birth-land's Claim.

Then came the trumpet-call to arms—and our heart's blood yearned again.

For the Old Land wherein we were born—and the yearning turned to pain.

And we bade farewell to our women and the homesteads built with toil.

And we set our faces Eastward—Eastward for England's sail.

And by a thousand trails we came; snowshoes, canoe, and horse.

And we met old pals at the rail-heads and grew each day in force.

And the old reserve fell from us, and strangers met as friends.

When England called her wanderers and they came from the Empire's ends.

No strict allegiance ordered She but left us free to roam.

Knowing full well the appointed Hour would bring her children Home.

Little Mother of mighty nations spread East and West o'er the globe.

Thy children gather round Thee in the Shadow of the Robe.

And She welcomes Home each one of us; with tears of pride and pain.

England, our Land, Mother, takes us to her House again.

For this is an honor due us, to hold for her a sword;

If we die, we die for England. Strengthen our arms, O Lord!

Ypres has known us. Festubert, Hill Sixty, Dikrich.

And on the Somme our blood has stained the ground at Martin-pulch.

Now from the hard-won Vimy Ridge we watch the burning shell.

O Motherland, from whence we sprang, say, have we quite us well?

T. Topham in the London Express.

NATIONALISM'S GENESIS.

From the Ottawa Citizen.

We do not think that a local journal is quite fair to the government when it says, as it does in the province of Quebec as regards conscription:

The anti-conscription sentiment in Quebec has been organized and exploited quite openly by one of the parties. It goes without saying that this activity is not approved by thousands of the members of that party both in Quebec province and in other provinces, yet the party's leaders must share the responsibility for the most flagrant and dangerous anti-war explosion to be heard in Canada since the war began.

While it is true that the administration must bear the responsibility for the development of that phase of Nationalism opposed to conscription, or, indeed, to any participation in the wars of the empire outside this country, it cannot be deduced, as our contemporary more than hints, that the administration is responsible for the conditions which have developed in certain parts of Quebec during the past week. The government could not foresee the growth of sentiment to which the Conservative party gave its benediction in the now historic Drummond—Arthabaska election, which it nurtured so carefully afterwards and to the protagonists of which it gave its grateful share of public office following the elections of 1911.

But as the creation of the perverted Frankenstein first alarmed the genius who devised it, so the ungovernable potentialities of the new spirit eventually disconcerted the sponsors of the present government's empire war.

Yet it cannot be denied that the government displayed at the proper time a certain degree of firmness which events proved to have been founded on a shrewd estimate of the sincerity and strength of character of the leaders of Nationalism, who had entered the cabinet. The one serious obstacle to the final triumph of political blandishments, as represented by the peaceful enjoyment of the fruits of office in a policy of tacit and mutual understanding, was fortuitously removed by the resignation of the late Hon. Mr. Monk. Disillusioned, the one conscientious Nationalist in office rejected the substance for the shadow of principle and retired to private life and his own reflections on the state of political morality in his native province.

Henceforth it became incumbent upon the administration in general, to use the words of our neighbor, so to adjust its vital policies as to attract support in the other provinces outside Quebec in the possible, at that time not probable, contingency of being one day called upon to advocate a general policy inconsistent with the genesis of the movement to which it was largely indebted for its position and emoluments. That contingency has now arisen. Undoubtedly the development is awkward, but on the other hand, it would seem audacious to attempt to hold responsible, as some journals are doing, the political opponents of the administration, those who suffered the loss of office because of the present government's voluntary assumption of the role of godfather to the Nationalist infant in the stirring days of 1911 and just previous to that time. The political mistakes of men live after them. Our contemporary may appear injudicious in insisting on recalling this axiom at this time, but presumably it is performing its duty as it sees it. Even the administration should recognize that attitude. Whether it will or not is another matter.

COSSACKS FIRM BEHIND RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT

Will Not Tolerate Undermining of its Power by Separate Groups

Petrograd, via London, June 11—Energetic support of the provisional government by the Cossacks has been pledged by the delegate to congress of peasants, M. Kuban. Delegate Kuban declared the Cossacks recognize only one authority, namely, the provisional government, and would not tolerate the undermining of its power by separate groups and individuals. He said that the Cossacks would not hesitate to use arms if the government requested it.

The delegate added that when Lenin agitators came to Cossack territory they were greeted with the word "Go" and they went.

The congress of peasants, which is sitting at Novo Tchirka, capital of the territory of the Don Cossacks, has telegraphed greetings to the American, British, French and Japanese ambassadors at Petrograd, assuring them that the congress will do all in its power to help defeat the enemies of liberty and equality. Speakers at the congress declared that the Don Cossacks were in full accord with the Don Cossacks.

WELCOME RAINS RAISE HOPES IN MANITOBA

Feeling Prevails That Much-needed June Rains Have Now Set In

Winnipeg, June 11.—Evidently the long drought is broken, and while there are many points that have not yet had rains and some that have not had sufficient, the fact that rain has fallen at points south, west, centre and north in the province is sufficient to give reasonable hope that the much needed June rains have set in.

There is not, as yet, any lack of subsurface moisture, and a very little rain at this time will do immense good. Where crops have been frozen down, what was most needed was a good shower to start them again, and this has now come to many places, and many others report promise of rain. Up to the present no serious loss has occurred, but the feeling of apprehension is daily growing, and any continued delay in rain coming would certainly mean loss.

After the sweltering heat of the past few days the electrical storm which broke over Winnipeg this morning a few minutes after midnight, came as a welcome relief.

Although the electrical storm, which was accompanied by heavy rain, passed over quickly, it was followed by a steady downpour which was still in progress this morning and will effect incalculable benefit to the gardens of the city and crops in the surrounding district. No damage is reported from the electrical disturbance.

Adventures of Uncle Wiggily

By Howard R. Garis

Uncle Wiggily and Wonderful Alice

Copyright, 1917, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

"Good-bye, Nurse Jane! Good-bye!" called Uncle Wiggily Longears, the rabbit gentleman, to miss Fussy Wuzzy his muskrat lady housekeeper, on morning, as he hopped off the front steps of his hollow stump bungalow, with his red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch folded up inside his tall silk hat. "Good-bye!"

"Good-bye, answered Nurse Jane, and I hope you have a nice adventure."

"Thanks, I wish you the same," answered Uncle Wiggily, and away he went over the fields and through the woods. He had not hopped very far looking this way and that, before, all of a sudden, he came to a queer little place, near an old rail fence. Down in one corner was a hole, partly underground.

"Ha! That's queer," said Uncle Wiggily to himself. "That looks just like the kind of an underground house, or burrow, where I use to live. I wonder if it can be where I made my home before I moved to the hollow stump bungalow? I must take a look. Nurse Jane would like to hear all about it."

So Uncle Wiggily, folding back his ears in order that they would not get bent over and broken, began crawling down the rabbit hole, for that is what it really was.

It was dark inside, but the bunny uncle did not mind that, being able to see in the dark. Besides, he could make his pink nose twinkle when he wanted to, and this gave almost as much light as a firefly.

"No, this isn't the burrow where I used to live," said Uncle Wiggily to himself, when he had hopped quite a distance into the hole. "But it's very nice. Perhaps I may have an adventure here. Who knows?"

And, just as he was about to himself, Uncle Wiggily saw, lying under a little table, in what seemed to be a room in the underground house, a small glass box.

"Ha! My adventure begins!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "I'll open that glass box and see what is in it."

So the bunny uncle raised the cover, and in the glass box was a little cake, made of carrots and cabbage, and on top, spelled out in pink raisins, were the words:

"EAT ME!"

"Ha! That's just what I'll do!" cried jolly Uncle Wiggily, and never stopping to think anything might be wrong, the bunny gentleman ate the cake. And then, all of a sudden, he began to feel very funny.

"Oh, my!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "I hope that cake didn't belong to my nephew, Sammie Littlebit, or Johnnie or Billie Bushytail, the squirrel brothers. One of them may have lost it out of his lunch basket on his way to school. I hope it wasn't any of their cake. But there is surely something funny about it, for I feel so very queer!"

And no wonder! For Uncle Wiggily had suddenly begun to grow very large. His ears grew taller, so that they lifted his tall silk hat right off his head. His legs seemed as long as bean poles, and as for his whiskers and pink twinkling nose, they seemed so far away from his eyes that he wondered if he would ever get them near enough to see to comb the one, or scratch the other when it felt ticklish.

"This is certainly remarkable!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "I wonder what made me grow so large all of a sudden. Could it have been the cake which gave me the indigestion?"

"It was the cake!" cried a sudden and buzzing voice, and looking around the hole Uncle Wiggily saw a big mosquito.

"It was the cake that made you grow big," went on the bad biting bug, "and I put it here for you to eat."

"What for?" asked the bunny uncle, puzzled like.

"So you would grow so big that you couldn't get out of this hole," was the answer. "And now you can't! This is how I have caught you! Ha! Ha!" and the mosquito buzzed a most unpleasant laugh.

"Oh, dear!" thought Uncle Wiggily. "I wonder if I am caught? Can't I get out as I got in?"

Quickly he hopped to the front of the hole. But alas! Likewise sorrowful! He had grown so big from eating the magical cake that he could not possibly get out of the hole through which he had crawled into the underground burrow.

"Now I have caught you!" cried the mosquito. "Since we could not catch you at your soldier tent or in the trenches near your hollow stump bungalow, I thought of this way. Now we have you and we'll bite you!" and the big mosquito, who with his bad friends had dug the hole on the purpose to get Uncle Wiggily in a trap, began to play a bugle tune on his wings to call the other biting bugs.

"Oh, dear!" thought Uncle Wiggily. "I guess I am caught! And I haven't my talcum powder popgun that shoots beanbag bullets! Oh, if I could only get out of here!"

"You can get out, Uncle Wiggily," aid a soft little voice down toward the end of his pink, twinkling nose.

"Oh, no I can't!" he said. "I am much too large to squeeze out of the hole by which I came in here. Much too large. Oh, dear!"

"Here, drink some of this and you'll grow small just as I did when I drank from it before I fell into the pool of tears," and, to Uncle Wiggily's surprise, there stood a nice little girl with long, flaxen hair. She was holding out to him a bottle with a tag that read

"DRINK ME!"

"Am I really to drink this?" asked the bunny.

"You are," said the little girl. Uncle Wiggily took a long drink from the bottle. It tasted like lollipop ice cream soda, and no sooner had he taken a second sip than all of a sudden he found himself shutting up small, like a telescope. Smaller and smaller he shrank, until he was his own regular size, and then the little girl took him by the paw and said:

"Come on. Now you can get out!"

And, surely enough, Uncle Wiggily could.

"But who are you?" he asked the little girl.

"Oh! I'm Alice from Wonderland," she said, "and I know you very well, though you never met me before. I'm in a book, but this is my birthday, so I came out. Come on, now, before the mosquitoes catch us!"

Uncle Wiggily with Wonderland Alice, who had saved him from being bitten, so everything came out all right, you see.

And if the teacup doesn't lose its handle and try to do a great deal of waiting with the little girl, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the March Hare.

Letters to Uncle Tom

Had Fine Time at Wedding
Dear Uncle Tom—This is my second letter to your club in which I am very much interested. I was to a wedding last night. I stayed there till twelve o'clock. I certainly had a fine time, but I had to break up all the good time and had to go home because my school next morning. I drank so much pop that I felt I was double the size really. When I was talking today, because when I went out for the cows I came back dripping. Hoping to see this letter in print.

Thinks Badge Fine
Dear Uncle Tom—I received my badge a few weeks ago and I think it is fine. I wear it every day. I didn't write a letter for May. Everything is growing fast. I have a number of young chickens, turkeys and ducks. Nearly everybody out here takes the Bulletin and I couldn't get twelve members and was sorry. It will be held and I am glad. I hope all the members will enjoy them.

Dear Uncle Tom—Just a line to tell you I am fine. I hope you are the same.
